Dupler Office Introduces Allsteel Acuity™ Chair to Midwest

More than 200 guests and Allsteel Executives Celebrate Acuity Launch

COLUMBUS, Ohio (September 29, 2008)—Allsteel's latest coup in office seating comfort, the Acuity chair, made its Midwest entrance in style last week at a launch party held by Columbus-based Dupler Office.

The party fashionably celebrated Acuity's Italian roots and was attended by more than 200 guests and several Allsteel executives, including President Eugene Sung. Acuity chairs were poised on a fashion show runway so guests could easily admire the chair's sophisticated and sleek aesthetics. Guests were also given the opportunity to experience the comfort and adaptability of the Acuity chairs first hand.

"Dupler Office is proud to be the first office furniture dealer in the Midwest to introduce the Acuity chair," said Randy Dupler, co-founder and co-owner of Dupler Office. "We feel the chair's sleek look, performance and comfort will appeal to our clients and be a strong seller for us."

The event featured Italian food, libations and music, as well as giveaways of a Prada handbag and Gucci loafers. Guests also had the opportunity to express their feelings about the new Acuity chair on camera for a chance to win Allsteel's Acuity "Never Sit Still" YouTube contest. Winners of the contest could receive a grand prize trip to Salone del Mobile di Milano 2009 in Milan, Italy.
